1.) During our last class, a lot of new and interesting ideas were expressed by my fellow classmates. Among them, one of the applications is named Uber eats. I want to discuss with you about improvements that we may implement. That the app must include more features and a user-friendly interface and must include a voice search engine to order. App should provide the options for meal customization taking into consideration nutritional needs, food allergies and food preferences such as vegan, gluten free. And apps should provide healthy eating plans challenges to choose healthier diets. Access free delivery for nearby locations hidden charges shouldn't be applied while check out process.

Should Offer packages that can include customized decorations, cakes, and cards for holidays, birthdays, and other special events. That would be a great surprise for our loved ones and the app should provide group orders, which make it simple for several people to participate, choose their preferences, and split the bill smoothly.

2.) Several people mentioned the "conflict" between the desire to have a free app.

People frequently encounter issues when using paid apps, and many people can't afford them. This issue can be resolved by lowering the number of advertisements and hiring more marketing agents to raise awareness of the app's benefits among the local public. The services we provide during the early stages must be offered without charge. Additionally, we can choose to pay a nominal subscription cost, which also allows users to take full advantage of the applications.

3.) Among the applications that I've interacted with, I personally liked a few applications Ui/ Ux and one of them is Walmart. The app's search tool allowed users to find products easily by inputting keywords, scanning barcodes, or voice search. The app's simple and well-organized navigation menu made it simple for users to look up products, browse categories, and access within the app or in the store. This app also has the option for customers to check whether a specific product was in stock at their neighborhood Walmart store. Product pages are very useful content pictures in the descriptions, prices, and customer reviews. Users were able to make smart choices thanks to this. And what I like the most is it also provide the most popular services such as pharmacy, pet pharmacy, money center and custom cakes or cupcakes we can design our own cake within the app. Provides easy online shopping

4.) After hearing the ideas given by my fellow classmates during our most recent session. I've developed the ability to see issues and come up with ideas based on my own experiences. Virtual fashion assistant's app can be designed to enhance specific aspects of the fashion industry. Where this app gives you a personal stylish and personal designer. As per the user requirement it enables users to virtually create their own outfits or accessories. They would select the outfit from the closet and Allow people to virtually assess clothing. They can make better online decisions by comparing how various clothing looks on a 3D avatar of themselves. Besides, on the occasion we can style ourselves very easily Moreover this app would be more use full even while we are shopping. Offer ideas on everyday clothes and shopping and Provide fashion advice.

App also provide personal designer now a day it's really very hard to get a good designer. Where we can talk to the tailor directly through an app and we can just give our measurements virtually with the help of 3D avatar. This can be accomplished when clients define their personal style. The virtual assistant attains this goal by selecting clothing and accessories that flatter the client, fit their budget, and suit their tastes. Technical help is needed when you are analyzing the customers' features like height, skin tone, nature of their body and in providing the required assistance.

So, we can say this app can come in handy as your day-to-day fashion designer and give you all the advice based on your own interests and needs. I would like to take this as my project.
